

KMF zero in on aerospace

Following the opening of KMF Advanced Manufacturing Solutions, KMF (Precision Sheet Metal) is intensifying its efforts to develop market share in the aerospace sector with two strategic actions. The first of these is the appointment of Graham Jackson as business development manager with specific focus on the aerospace and defence markets. Mr Jackson has long experience working for some of the leading aerospace/defence companies, including Airbus, Boeing, BAE

Systems and Ferranti.

KMF's second initiative is its embarkation on the SC21 programme in partnership with TPT Consultancy and Training. This will see KMF develop its customer engagement, diagnostics, CSIP plan and recognition systems.
